About Us

Contrary to rumor, our exceptionally delicious salad dressings aren't whipped up in the enchanted kitchen of a mysterious culinary genius named "Brianna." While the taste may be magical, our story is much more down to earth.

The Del Sol Food Company was founded over 33 years ago in Austin, Texas. Located today in Brenham, Texas, BRIANNAS Fine Salad Dressings grew from the simple desire to create quality family-made dressings we'd be proud to call our own. Named after our owner's daughter Marianne and grandson Brian, BRIANNAS has since grown to become one of the most popular and sought-after dressings in the world.

We've been honored to receive numerous first place awards for our spectacular taste, and even our packaging has been honored for its artistic flavor with the most prestigious award in design, The Clio. But we haven't let success go to our heads (lettuce or otherwise). At heart, we're still that small, humble, family-owned and operated business focused on one thing and one thing only: blending the highest quality, most delectably delicious salad dressing available anywhere.

Today, BRIANNAS is sold in every state in America, and has gone global, now available on shelves for taste connoisseurs on five continents. For them, there is BRIANNAS Salad Dressing, and then there is every other brand. In any language, it will always be the praise of our loyal fans for which we are most grateful.
